New Jersey Shore Starts Early Summer Events

Published on: April 29, 2009

The official start of the summer season is Memorial Day Weekend but with temperatures climbing, the New Jersey Shore resorts are already attracting bathers and other visitors. The shore region of Monmouth and Ocean Counties features 27 miles of ocean beaches, boardwalks, historic sites, restaurants, amusement parks, theaters, racetracks, boutique and outlet shopping, boat rides, water sports deep sea and fresh water fishing and more. The Jersey Shore draws hundreds of thousands of visitors each year. A number of events such as the NJ Seafood Festival, Jazz & Blues Festival plus a number of concerts and cultural events, at major destinations from Six Flags Great Adventure to the PNC Bank Arts Center and the Stone Pony in Asbury Park. A selected sampling of events includes the Red Bank Jazz and Blues Festival (www.redbankfestival.com) from June 5 to 8; Belmar's New Jersey Seafood Festival (www.visitbelmarnj.com) on June 13 and 14; and the Crab Cake Festival and Shore Chef Cook-Off (www.monmouthpark.com) on Aug. 22 and 23. For more information and a full listing of events, visit www.visitthejerseyshore.com.
